

Numerous Silver Wedding Events To Mark Christmas Season in County

Numerous Marion county brides of 25 years ago joined the day before Christmas in the time of obtaining their marriage license. December 24 was also a popular one with brides, as five obtained licenses on that date. The popularity of the Christmas season as the time for wedding licenses was revealed in a review of records for 1927 in the probate court. The records show that 31 couples obtained marriage licenses during the month of December 1927.

Silver wedding anniversaries of the following couples will occur this month provided nothing has occurred to cause separation:

Dec. 5 Charles D. Penber of Marion and Ophelia Henry of California; Eugene G. Miller of La Rue and Carrie L. Stoddard, of Howling Green township.

Dec. 7 Marcus C. Moran of N. Y. and Nina Cole of Marion.

Dec. 9 Emma C. Piddell of Columbia and Grace M. Thornton, of Marion.

Dec. 12 William M. Minix of Wyandot county and Nina Taylor of Marion township, township of Marion.

Secretary Davis Predicts U. S. Army of Unequalled Morale

MAKES HIS ANNUAL REPORT TO COOLIDGE

Professional Effectiveness of Soldiers Seen by War Department Head

NOW NUMBER 127,837

Four-Year Period Reviewed: Air Defense Gratiities Officer

Washington, Dec. 1.—Secretary of War Dwight W. Davis in his annual report to the president on the conduct of the military establishment for the year ending June 30 last, made the following statement: "The year today, held out a hope in the future for a standing army 'un-parallel in morale and in professional effectiveness at a high ratio to its small numbers." Final determination of the strength of combat branches, improvement in the uniform for enlisted men, and completion of the housing program, he said, will bring this about. The strength of the army on June 30, officers and enlisted men, he gave as 127,837, of which approximately 25 per cent were on duty outside the continental limits of the United States.

Davis reviewed the four year period beginning July 1, 1921, and covering all the activities of the army during that time, but credited the present state of efficiency as beginning within a few years after the enactment by congress of the national defense act of 1920.

Air Defense
The permanent establishment, he said, has been comparatively free from disorganizing influences because the commissioned strength has remained constant during the four year period from July, 1921.

Davis expressed gratification over the development of the nation's air defense under the five year expansion program authorized by congress in July, 1928, which the war department inaugurated July 1, 1927. The commissioned strength of the air corps increased during the past four years from 572 regularly assigned air corps officers and 32 detailed from other branches, to 941 assigned officers and 144 detailed from other branches for training, the report disclosed. During that period the number of pilots increased from 703 to 950. The enlisted strength increased from 8,225 to 9,483. Both the officer and enlisted strength of the air corps, however, are still somewhat below that authorized for the first increment of the five year expansion program.

In every branch of the army, Davis reported, officers have had under continuous investigation every potential means for increased efficiency of units and material.

"Improvements in types have been well high innumerable," the army kept well in the van on all modern development," he said.

Some Criticisms
"From various sources there comes sporadic criticism of failure to equip the military establishment completely with new material as soon as developed. These criticisms do not always take into consideration the financial cost of such action. They often fail, too, to consider that the weapon or other item of material developed today, in the near future may be, if not out of date, at least greatly inferior to one then available, and that experts by no means are always in agreement as to the extent to which changes are advisable. Experimentation, frequently over a protracted period, is necessary before definite decision."

"The essential material need of the Army, from the viewpoint of possible participation in war, is the development and improvement in time of peace of types of weapons and material—a continuous effort to assure, should emergency so demand, the availability for production of material of types of last-minute development and the existence of the dies, gauges, and dies essential for the speedy manufacture of such types. The War Department has been unremitting in its efforts toward this end."

The army's new housing program, authorized by congress, is progressing satisfactorily, he said. While movement during the past four years of a considerable number of troops from tents lacking in suitable quarters to permanent garrisons, has necessitated in some cases of dispersal of organizations with a resulting handicap to training effectiveness, this condition is but temporary, Davis said. The National Guard, Davis reported, has attained the highest plane of military effectiveness in the peace time history of this country of the national defense forces. It is now more highly organized, equipped and trained than during any period in the past.

Reserve Strength
Of the organized reserves, the strength of which was put at 120,288, the enlisted personnel was 5,461, while the officers reserve totaled 114,827, the latter including 3,765 National Guard officers holding commissions in the reserve. Numerous considerations, Davis said, limit the practicability and desirability of increasing the strength of the enlisted reserve at the present time. It comprises chiefly, not commissioned officers and specialists for key mobilization purposes.

"Our organized reserves," Davis declared, "are unlike those of any other world power. They are completely dissimilar to any reserves contemplated for this country prior to the World War. Their development along effective lines has involved the solution of problems of great magnitude as are the potentialities of the reserves themselves for the national security. We have been playing virgin ground in our effort to develop the Organized Reserves; we have had but little to guide us from the book of past experience."

Davis finds a "desirable transformation" in the personnel of the citizens' training camps since 1925. In the first few years of these camps, he said, the great proportion of enrolled students came from the small towns and rural communities. Recently, however, there has been a continually increasing percentage from youths employed in the industries of cities.

"The intimate camp association of the young worker, the young farmer, and the young student," Davis said, "has aided in promoting an ideal democracy of American youth."

REALTY SLACKENS IN HOLIDAY WEEK

Decrease Shown in Both Mortgages and Property Transfers

Thanksgiving week was the poorest of the year so far as real estate and loan transactions in Marion county were concerned. A review of real estate transactions in the county for the week shows that only 12 properties changed hands. Several of these were transfers. Transfers dropped from 25 last week.

Mortgage loans also showed a decrease, the total number dropping from 32 for last week to 29 for this week. The amount dropped from more than $70,000 last week to $30,838 this week. Mortgages taken by individuals cut heavily into the loan company business this week.

Murrel Wait Given Important Assignment at National Livestock Show

Murrel Wait, of Caledonia, is one of the three judges of hay entered in competition at the National Livestock association's annual show, which opened today in Chicago, according to an announcement received here.

Wait's appointment as judge is regarded as an unusual distinction, as the selections are made only from those regarded as exceptionally qualified to appraise the quality of farm products. The annual show will continue eight days. The program includes extensive exhibits of practically all classes of livestock and farm products.

Always Victorious

A SERMONETTE BY THE REV. J. W. SCHILLINGER Pastor, Emanuel's Lutheran Church

THE Bible has many enemies. Thus it has always been; and thus it will be while the world stands. Among these enemies have been some of the brightest intellects of the world. Porphyry, Celsus, Voltaire and Paine were intellectual giants in their days. None were their superiors. All of the power and intellectual strength of which they were capable were used in order to overthrow the Bible. But the Bible still stands; it is the most popular book in the world today. Never was it more popular, and never did it exert a greater influence over mankind than today.

Voltaire prophesied that a century after his death the Bible would be an unknown book. After his death the very printing presses which he used to publish his infidel literature were used to print Bibles, and continued in that use until worn out; and the very house in which he lived was used as a storage for Bibles of the Geneva Bible Society.

The Bible has mighty enemies today, some of the mightiest of the world. They can not overthrow it. God has said: "All flesh is as grass; and all the goodliness thereof, as the flower of the field; the grass withereth and the flower fadeth; but the word of the Lord abideth forever." His word can not fail. The Bible shall come forth victorious from all conflicts.

We sometimes hear well-meaning Christian people trying to defend the Bible. They remind us of a few puppy dogs trying to defend a lion. Give the lion a chance to defend himself. He does not need the defense of puppy dogs. Take down the bars of his cage; let him out; he will defend himself.

Let the Bible speak for itself; it does not need any defense that we might offer. Let it speak to your own heart. Be a devotee student of the Bible. Let it speak at the family altar in your homes. Let it speak in your churches. Let every sermon and every Sunday school lesson be nothing but an unfolding of the Holy Scriptures. Let the Bible speak out into the world everywhere. No adversary can withstand its power. It will carry conviction into men's hearts and lives. No other power is needed. Let the Bible speak; it will put all of its enemies to silence, and come forth victorious in every conflict.

SANTA Bring The Best Gift OF ALL!

An Improved Homesite in Vernon Heights

Start towards home ownership by purchasing a homesite for her and the kiddies for Christmas. Here's what Arthur Brisbane says about home ownership (quoted from Tuesday's Star):

What are you going to buy for Christmas? Do you own a home of your own, for your children now, or for your children when you get married and have them, a home for your old age, A PLACE OF YOUR OWN WHICH IS YOURS?

Just a few of these choice improved homesites are available. Just seven on the boulevard and one on Belford Ave., eight on Huxley Ave., two on Concord Ave.

If not, the best thing to do with Christmas savings is to buy a home, or start buying one. Buy only what you are sure you can pay for. There are ten thousand good investments in this country, but no investment is as good as money invested in a home of your own.

Art Yazel Sets New Mark

Christian Sunday School Bowler Holds Record with 285 Pins

CHRISTIAN Sunday School boasts of two bowling teams that meet each other every Friday night on the Recreation Alley. The rolling of these two teams fail to attract much attention as the fires are out for the part of the game alone.

Last night things changed and the interest of all bowlers turned to one team on the team. Would he reach the high mark that is the aim of all bowlers? That was the question that was asked when Art Yazel, leader of Team No. 2 started off with a series of strikes.

The first 10 balls rolled cleaned up all of pins. Only two more were needed for a perfect score of 300. The eleventh ball got off to a start and only six pins fell. He took the three of the four remaining pins. The last ball swept the alley for a total of 285, a record for the season.

His score for the three games of the match was 605. As might be expected Team No. 2 won over the first aggregation.

HEISMAN'S HUNDRED In the Hall of Football Fame

CHARLES "PEGGY" FLOURNOY

Played halfback at Tulane University, in 1925-26.

Born: 1901, Home City: New Orleans.

Prepared: Rugby Academy.

Fraternity: Beta.

Baseball: leftier and captain.

Baseball letters: All-American 2nd team 1925.

Business: Stocks and bonds.

HOW does the far south compare with the far north in football. That was one of the interesting questions attending the great intersectional game between Northwestern and Tulane in 1925, which took place at Evanston. There was a chap on the southern eleven that day who had been startling the natives of New Orleans for quite some time. His metal came in for the first test in this, his first game against a good northern team.

A SMALL but thrilling book could be written about what Flournoy alone accomplished in that game. To begin with he carried the ball three different times to touchdowns on three separate sustained drives, each for almost the length of the field and his average gains were about four to six yards.

The northern lads could no more stop him than you can cool off a white hot furnace with a handful of snow. How did he do it? By a 100 per cent exhibition of starting, charging, dodging, line-running, and efficiency and by the concurrent employment of 100 per cent of ambition, courage, aggressiveness, cleverness, planning, clear-thinking and perseverance. Also Tulane showed in Flournoy the most amazing punter the South probably has produced. In 10 games that season "Peggy" punted for an average of 53 yards beyond the scrimmage line, and in this Northwestern game some of his punts traveled close to 75 yards.

THEN take this little matter of blocking tacklers for other runners which are at once the most difficult and the most valuable talents a footballer can possess. Flournoy's work in this department was a revelation to northern scribes. He could take off an opposing end single-handed, whereas two and often three interferences have to be assigned to get one good defensive end, as a rule. On this day, with his quarter carrying the ball around right end, Flournoy took off Northwestern's left end—and the hospital crew then took that end off the field altogether. On the very next play—and run this time around to the left, Flournoy blocked the N. W. right end so hard they had to take him out and he was back in the game in a few minutes.

YOU'LL remember somewhere why and how Flournoy qualified for the "Hall of Fame" when you read that he was the first player of the United States to be named "All-American" by the Associated Press.

THE Engineers are gradually weakening. The fast pace set up early in the season is being broken up and the Yardmen are slowly cutting down their lead.

Last night the league leaders lost one game to Trackmen No. 1 while the Yardmen were sweeping their series with the Freight Clerks. The Engineers hold a four game lead on the second place five.

and basketball ability he was one of the most brilliant receivers of passes imaginable. Twice within five minutes, in a game against Miss A. & M., standing on his own 35 yard line, both plays resulting in Tulane touchdowns shortly after. The number of his great games is too numerous even to mention. One need give him credit 100 per cent for handling of the ball, forward passing, inspirational qualities, discipline, training, modesty, popularity and sportsmanship. Anything he could not do well? Just one—he was but a fair end runner.

AND Flournoy developed into this kind of player in the toughest football climate in America. I know for I have coached four years in that section—after coaching 22 years in other sections of the country. The Carolinas, Georgia, and Tennessee are south, to be sure, but southern Louisiana and southern Texas are something else again. There is no football there. The mind of the writer, this was Flournoy's greatest handicap, and the manner in which he ran there is a shameless lie in my estimation, to a lady friend.

GRIFFITHS LOSES AFTER 55 WINS

New York, Dec. 1—Tuffy Griffiths knocked out after 35 consecutive victories. Kid Chocolate, also unbeaten previously, held to a draw.

This was the double surprise given the customers at Madison Square Garden last night when Griffiths was kayoed in the second round by James J. Braddock, Jersey City, light-heavyweight, and Chocolate, the sensational colored bantamweight, was fought to a standstill by the hard-hitting Joe Scalapino, of New York.

TROJANS HOPE FOR WIN OVER ROCKE ELEVEN

Los Angeles, Dec. 1—The Trojans of Southern California, today secured the angles, made suitable offerings to the gods, then girded on leather armor and sallied forth to do or die—with a pronounced preference for the former.

A portentous day, this, for the Trojans. They encounter in the field of competitive sport a familiar and honored "enemy," none other than the rambling Irish of Notre Dame.

GOES ABOARD

New York, Dec. 1—Reigh Count, champion three-year-old thoroughbred, sails on the S. S. Minnawaska today for England, where he will attempt to win additional laurels. The winner of the Kentucky derby and other championship races in this country has been named for eight times aboard but will make his real bid for lasting fame in the Ascot Gold Cup, premier English turf classic.

At Columbus—Terry Lingo, Louisville, declared Ray Newton, Mansfield, 10.

Bert Hensfield, Columbus, declared Jean Doyle, Mansfield, 11.

EDWARD HOUGHTON RECEIVES FRESHMAN FOOTBALL NUMERAL

21 Yearling Gridgers at Ohio Wesleyan Given Recognition

DELAWARE, Dec. 1—Edward P. Houghton, Lafayette, Ala., Marion, is included in the list of 21 freshman football players who won numerals awarded by the board of control of athletics at Ohio Wesleyan university. The Marion gridder played tackle on the frosh eleven.

Although more than 80 players turned out this season for the yearling team, only 21 of these were successful in winning their first year numbers. Houghton is a graduate of Harding high school.

SMITH NAMED
Local Student at Wesleyan Given Football Managship

John Smith, 403 South State st., Marion, has been elected manager of the Ohio Wesleyan university football team for 1935. The election as football manager is determined by the board of control of athletics at the university. Announcement of Smith's election was made at the football banquet tendered the freshman and varsity squads by the Delaware Chamber of Commerce at the Columbus athletic club.

The football managship is regarded as the most important managerial position to which an Ohio Wesleyan student can be elected as an undergraduate.
